SPU always tries with its best to offer best amenities and facilities to students who are staying at its campus.

INDUSTRIAL COLLABORATION

Industrial collaboration is one of the most important segments of academic activities that further favour the University in its overall reputation and branding of its degree programmes. SPU is ingrained to have collaboration with different companies, hospitals, trusts and NGOs that bridge a gap between demand and supply of efficient manpower to the corporate sector. All the policies and guidelines of industrial collaboration are regulated by SPU's Industrial Collaboration Cell that works on designing the framework of as to how University will collaborate with different companies in order to have mutual benefits. The main objective of IC Cell is to flourish research work by its scholars and faculty members and to offer best placement opportunities to its students at international level.

Industrial collaboration is generally a two way flow – where Industry looks at the University to develop manpower as per its corporate modules and market demanded courses whereas on the other hand University looks at the corporate sector for placement and uplifting the research work. Industrial collaboration is basically an exchange of ideas between corporate leaders and academicians.

E-JOURNALS AND MULTI-FORMAT RESOURCES

Sikkim Professional University caters to its learners the access with E-Journals and multi-format resources so as to integrate them with research work and teaching at the University. Multi-format resources are basically print and electronic resources which scholars and faculty members use them in developing their research modules.

SPU Library is well known for its repository of huge collection of branded books of national and international authors; multi-formats resources that are available in varied format and E-Journals. All these reading resources are used by students, staff members and Ph.D. scholars to develop their research work. Library is stacked with latest version of different E-Journals submitted and published by eminent researchers which can easily be accessed by SPU's students to develop their skills and knowledge in respective domain of their choice. Students can use digital library.

CAREER CENTRE

Career cell of SPU is dedicated to work on career counselling for helping the students who are confused in making their career choice. This centre encourages the students to enhance their skills and knowledge to get synchronized with ever-changing scenario of job market. Career Centre is like a bridging gap between students and companies.

Career Centre of Sikkim Professional University basically comprises two segments:-

Career Development Centre

Placement

SPU not only produces a capable graduate but also commits to turn an individual to a responsible citizen of the nation. SPU supports open learning environment on its campus under which students can explore their hidden talents.
